

Curriculum input

Floristry students worked on traditional Hindu rangoli patterns as part of their training.

There are a whole variety of ways in which learning, skill training and matters of faith overlap. The expertise of faith communities can help tutors cover material on the syllabus as well as enriching the course.

Guidance materials could be provided direct to tutors/support staff or community partners could deliver direct.

Tried and tested activities include:

Working with floristry around the subject of funerals.

Delivering teaching about fair trade to catering students.

Overview of world religions for Child Care Students
